MARY DOREY'S ASSAILANTS. The Two Depraved Little Girls to Be Sen-

S Atl & Pac tu .... 22 Am 5 Mrg 6s.... 80 YONKERS, Feb. 11. Mary Dorey, pale, hag-gard, and weak, was in the Yonkers court room to-day to appear against her two youthful as-saliants, Lizzie Flynn and Annie Warren. The court room was crowded to the doors. The girls were found guity. Judge Kellogg suspended sentence until to-morrow morning. The testi-mony showed such deliberate and persistent planning on the defendants' part to injure the porey girl that the Judge was astounded. The little prisoners were defended by ex-Assembly-man John C. Harrigan, but the girl who had so nearly met her death was her own counsel. She was the first witness, and she told in a clear way of the assault upon her.

The trouble had been browing since Sunday last, and on Tuesday morning Annie Warren and Lizzie Fiynn determined to seek revence for the attention paid to the complainant by Charies Werner, who was conspicuous by his absence from the trial. Mary Dorey refused lover until compelled to do so by the Court.
After having been ejected from the factory After having been ejected from the factory where Mary worked, Lizzie and Annie threw tones through the doorway and made themselves obnozious. They returned to the building during the afternoon armed with clubs, but were again ejected, this time with a severe reprimand from the superintendent. They lay in wait for Mary, and when she, in company with a number of other girls, appeared they attacked her, cursing, and asked, "Do you want to fight now?"

Annie and Lizzie to have been instigated by sealous race.

When her assailants took the stand it was with a deflant air. They admitted their guilt, but endeavored to excuse themselves by trying to prove that Mary Dorey was "looking for a scrap" as well as they. Lawyer Harrigan made a strong plea for lenity. When the girls were ordered to stand up for sentence Lizzie fight, which is to be stand up for sentence Lizzie fight, which is to be sentenced in the court, fainted and she was taken from the room. Although the relatives of the girls wept bitterly throughed the proceedings, they bore the least concerned air of any one in the court room.

Judge Keilogg said that the deliberateness of the prisoners and the persistence with which it was carried out were unprecedented in his experience as a Judge. How two girls so young could concove. He found them guilty, and suspended sentence until to-morrow that he might consider the testimony and act accordingly.

colstana Lynchers Falled to Get the

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 11.-Sheriff Broussard of La Fayette parish has succeeded in getting the Bianc brothers to trial in that parish without the lynching expected. The Blanc brothers are two French boys who last spring tortured and murdered Martin Beguaud, one of the chief merchants and wealthlest men in Sout, I.a., and who, after travelling around the world on their stolen money, returned to the scene of their murder, ignorant of the fact that they were suspected. The crime was so cruel that it was thought certain that the two Blance would be synched as soon as they reached La in the parien prison in New Orleans until trial.
When the time came to take them to La Fayette, as was done yesterday, the Sheriff was notified there would be a lynching similar to that in Amite City last month, when morderers were lynched immediately upon their arrival in the town for trial. The lynching was regarded were lynched liminediately upon their arrival in the town for trial. The lynching was regarded as no certain that papers sent correspondents to la Fayette to report it. Broussard, however, new his crowd. An attempt to protect the fail would have resulted in heavy loss of life, and this he wished to avoid. Just before the train reached La Fayette Broussard and his prisoners disappeared for a day. There was no chance of lynching because there was no one to lynch.

When the case was called the Sheriff and his prisoners appeared. He came, but he had as worken a crowd as it was nossible to imagine. They had spent the night in one of the most dismal and impenetrable swamps in Louisiana, and is a prolonged rain storm. The Sheriff was very searly killed by the experience, and the prisoners expressed a willingness to face any mot rather than spend another night under such quarters. The flight to the swamp, however, had the effect of preventing the lynching, and it is now announced that the mob has abandoned all thes of summary punishment of the prisoners and will allow them to have a legal trial.

FUZZOY TO THE RESCUE.

The Conscitent Deputy Shrelf Contares GREENWICH, Feb. 11. - As Deputy Sheriff Fitzroy and his son Robert were driving by the little country schoolhouse at Quaker Ridge, nearly seven miles from the village, about 2 s'clock this afternoon, they were startled by hearing the screams of children. They rushed hearing the screams of children. They rushed into the building and found the little school-room in the possession of three drunken negroes. The Rev. M. McGill, the tracher, was helping the screaming children through the rear window to a place of safety.

Sheriff Fitziny laid his hand on Sam Green and James tiresh, colored, two of the men, who recognized him and offered no resistance. Sam Adams, the third man, made a dash for liberty out the front door, closely followed by young Robert Fitziny. Adams and Fitziny clinched near the brook that runs in front of the school-house, and in a few moments young Fitziny last the better of his man. The three men were then orought to Greenwich and locked up. Mr. McGill, the teacher, is the Episcopsi minister at fleand Hill and Gienville. He says that the three mes entered the school very drunk, and when he told them to leave threatened him and the children with personal injury, and were about to put their threats into execution when he began to let the children out of the window.

To-morrow being a legal holiday in this State, the various exchanges and the banks will be closed. Among the last an interesting question has been raised regarding the payment of notes maturing to-morrow. The law making Lincoln's birthday a legal holiday was passed by the Leglines of old statutes designating holi-days, which makes obligations maturing on those days payable on the day following Since those statutes were enacted the Saturday haif-holiday law has been passed, and also a law that is virtually an amendment to that act, providing that obligations maturing on Satur-day are not payable until Monday. The point raised is whether notes due to-morrow are payable on Saturday or on Monday. The question did not come up last year, when Lincoln's birthday was observed as a holiday for the first time, because it was followed by a full business day. A number of the larger banks have consulted their respective counsel as to whether they should insist on payment on Saturday or on Monday, and as none of them is willing to venture a positive opinion upon the subject, the larger downtown banks have as a rule decided to present for payment on Saturday items falling due to-morrow this course are the Importers and Traders', the National Bank of Commerce, the First National, the Chase National, the Hanover Na-tional, the American Exchange, and the Third

The committee representing the consolidated mortgage bonds of the Kansas Pacific Railroad is about to issue a circular to the bondholders in relation to the decision of the Reorganization Committee of the Union Pacific Railroad to rescind its former proposition giving the Kansas Pacific consols 80 per cent, in Union Pacific new 4 per cent, bonds and 72 per cent, in preferred stock. The committee will also issue a call for a meeting of the bondholders on Feb. 24, in this city, to consider the proposed curtaliment of its interest under the reorganization to 50 % cent, in Union Pacific new 4s and 110 % cent, in ureferred stock. The Kansas Pacific committee accepted the original offer of the Union Pacifics, and eventually the proposition was unanimously accepted. The committee will now, however, take a neutral position and will leave everything to the bondholders. The committee is not a unit in opposing the modified terms offered by the Union Pacific Reorganization Committee, but does not feel justified in taking the responsibility of recommending their acceptance, in view of the radical change of plan.

The trading to day was quiet and devoid of interesting developments. The speculation was almost wholly local, and the fluctuations in prices were confined within a narrow range. At the opening prices declined slightly in aympathy with the weakness in Liverpool. The loss was soon recovered, however, and a small advance wissed on Fall River advices stating that print cloths had soid as high as $8; cents and that $1 1.16 cents was bid. But the burns power was soon exhausted, and on renewed liquidation prices slowly receded. The receipts at the ports were light, and the total for the week is expected to fall below early estimates. Private Ranchester advices were favorable, but owing to the absence of buyers prices here weakened. COPPEE - Rio on the spot was dull but steady; No. 7, PAc. The future trading was as follows:
